FAMILY FOCUS

Good morning, and welcome to Sunset! 1 Chronicles 16:24 (CSB) says, "Declare his glory among the nations, his wondrous works among all peoples." Today, as we worship, let us remember God's wondrous works throughout history and in our lives.

Our worship is not just for us—it is also a powerful tool for drawing others to him. I know several people who are landlords, meaning they own homes and properties they rent out to tenants. As good of an investment as this may be, there are enough stories of bad tenants that would personally make me nervous to be a landlord. Stories abound of tenants who refuse to pay rent yet refuse to leave. I've heard horror stories of tenants destroying the property and breaking their contract in numerous other ways. I say all that to say this: Our sermon today comes from Matthew 21:33-46, which is a parable describing some bad tenants. These were pretty much the worst tenants imaginable because they rejected the patience and graciousness of the owner several times. These tenants even killed their owner's son. This parable teaches about how the Jewish leaders were unfaithful in their duty as leaders of God's people, and it is an ominous foreshadowing of the death Jesus was about to be subjected to. May our hearts receive God's word this morning!

I love you all,

Phillip
